Statement by [REDACTED] Injured coal mine worker 5 relayed to

Brendan Wright at Moranbah Hospital at approximately 6:30pm.

I was approached by [REDACTED] Injured coal mine worker 5's wife, to ask if I could go in and see [REDACTED] Injured coal mine worker 5 privately at his request. I did that. [REDACTED] Injured coal mine worker 5 told me he would like to tell me his version of what happened before he was transferred to Brisbane. I said I was happy to do that, and listened to his recount of what happened. I did not take notes at the time. [REDACTED] Injured coal mine worker 5's recount of what happened is below.

START

Injured coal mine worker 5:

[REDACTED] I was walking along the face from the Maingate to the Tailgate to relieve the guys for crib. I was at about 70-80 chock when I felt a burst of air, like a pressure burst, from the Tailgate. The burst of pressure knocked me over to the ground, and I felt a second burst of pressure from the Tailgate. There was a Yellow Flame. I was on the ground when the Yellow Flame happened. I thought I was going to die. I tried to get my rescover on, but I couldn't. The dust + it was dark, I fumbled the rescover and couldn't get it on. One of the boys coming past grabbed me and helped me up, and we started walking towards the Maingate.
